

And what have you done?¹

“This is really big stuff happening right under our noses – right now. I didn’t think that humans were capable of changing the basic physics and chemistry of this entire huge planet....it didn’t seem possible...but then I learned the story the glaciers were telling.”

“We are in the midst of a geologic scale change...and we humans are causing it.”

“When my daughter looks at me in 25- or 30-years’ time and says “What were you doing when global warning happened?” I want to be able to say I was doing everything I knew how to do.”

“We don’t have time. We have an opportunity now to face the greatest challenge of our generation.”²
