

Extinction is final!

Orang-utans are a family of great ape that live in the forests of Sumatra and Borneo. They have existed as a species for over 20 million years.

Today it is estimated that only some 60,600 remain.

Orang-utan has suffered from a reduction in habitat caused mainly by fires and logging due to the conversion of vast areas of tropical forest into palm oil plantations.

Orang-utans are at serious risk of extinction to make cooking oil, biodiesel and cosmetics!
