

Holey habitat¹

“Rarely a week goes by without more news of the large-scale decline of insects. The threats of habitat loss, climate change and intensive agriculture have led to nearly 10% of wild bee species in Europe facing extinction.”

“We must...help reverse this potentially devastating situation.”

“One of the simplest, and fastest ways you can help is by providing insects with a safe, purpose-built home...otherwise known as an “insect hotel.”²

“No wildlife garden is complete without an insect hotel.”²
